BC Poverty Reduction Coalition Annual Report

About the PRC

The BC Poverty Reduction Coalition consists of over 100 organizations and community mobilizations that come together to advocate for public policy solutions to end poverty, homelessness and inequality in B.C. We aim to improve the health and well-being of all living in British Columbia. The Coalition advocates for a targeted and comprehensive poverty reduction strategy that prioritizes equity-seeking groups, and a whole government, cross-ministry approach to ending poverty. Our work is grounded in the foundation of universal human rights.

Message from the Provincial Director

This has been an incredible whirlwind of a year for the PRC. From transitioning from being hosted by the Vancity Community Foundation to the Homelessness Services Association of BC, orienting as a new staff member, hosting a CAN Leadership Training program in New Westminster, to getting Coalition members together for important discussions on priorities and campaigns, it has been a year of transformation, change, and growth for the PRC.

As we launch into a new era as an organization, we have so many foundational, integral folks, members, organizations, and funders to thank and appreciate; without the support of our fearless and tireless steering committee, society director's, our amazing funders, the Coalition Membership, and the generous committed care of Stephen D'Souza, the Homelessness Services Association of BC, and the phenomenal ongoing support from Vancity Community Foundation, we would not be in the place we are today, coming at poverty issues in BC from a position of strength, integrity, and power.

As we are sorting out our internal systems, we are also facing the impacts of the catastrophic pandemic, unprecedented climate changes, the toxic drug poisoning crisis, extreme heat and weather events, an ever increasing wealth gap and housing crisis, and the continued prevalence of poverty across our province that has reached calamity levels, and the erosion of our public systems. We continue to commit to approaching this urgent work with our values at the heart of everything we do.

Thank you to our membership base, whose leadership and continued care help guide us forward in these challenging times, and our CAN Leadership Network, whose lived experience, expertise, advocacy and hope are at our core, and offer us so much heart.

It's been a humbling, wisening, and thrilling experience to move alongside all of you in this work. I look forward to celebrating our successes while continuing to move the PRC along into our next year of transition, transformation, advocacy, and action.

2. Governance Structure

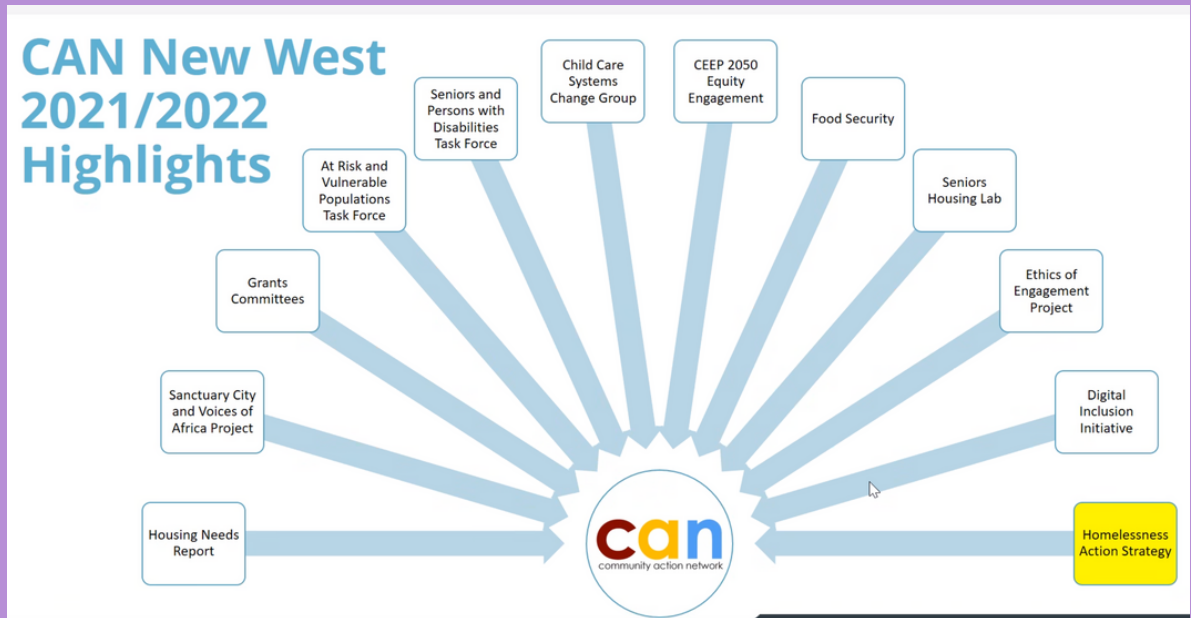

3. THE CAN NETWORK

In Spring 2022, we ran a 7-week CAN Leadership program in New Westminster in partnership with the City of New Westminster. Eight graduates successfully completed the program!

- Guest speakers included Council Nadine Nakagawa, Shane Simpson, Viveca Ellis, Betina Wheeler, Pivot Legal with VANDU, and 5 former CAN graduates.
- Followup engagements and events, and connecting with the New Westminster public library about hosting a clubhouse/resource space for New Westminster graduates, at their request have continued for summer 2022, with plans to expand these supports ongoingly.
- Funding in place to run a CAN program in Kelowna, slated for Fall, 2022.

Quote from John Stark regarding the New Westminster Homelessness action strategy:

"CAN Leaders have played a pivotal role in regards to strategy development. They sat on the working group, they informed the engagement process, they conducted engagement activities, and they reviewed proposed actions. They will also be involved in strategy implementation."

4. PRC Projects

City of Vancouver, Getting Around to Feed Ourselves Well project

We wrapped up this project this year! You can check out some of the findings in our summary page here, and see Dr. Soma's webinar on the project here.

Survey says:

- 66.4% of households on assistance are food insecure vs less than 10% of all households
- over 41% of respondents found it difficult or very difficult to access non profit food hubs during the pandemic

City of Vancouver Capacity Building

The PRC Presented a five-part Anti-Oppression themed virtual Workshop Series in partnership with HSABC. These workshops included Disability Justice (Nov 2, 2021), Curriculum For Change (Nov 16), Decolonial and Anti-Oppressive Practice (Nov 23), Anti-Oppression 101 (Nov 30) and Queer Competency Training (Dec 7).

Given the success of the workshop series, we followed up with an additional five workshops in Jan-March 2022:

"The facilitator/instructor was so wonderful... gentle, informative, funny, organized, clear, she explained things in such a wonderful way that made it easy to digest, and also made me feel really open to examining how I (or my organization) may be perpetuating systems of oppression."

"I was so impressed with the intentionality that the facilitator used in ensuring that intersections of violence was addressed from race, gender, and Disability status. I felt they were well trained and responsible in facilitating this workshop, and was very impressed".

6. CAN Leadership Network:

can

community action network

In addition to our CAN New Westminster Leadership Training this spring, which led to our 5th cohort of CAN leadership graduates, we have held monthly virtual meetings of our CAN leadership network. These are all amazing advocates with lived and living experiences of poverty and/or homelessness, many of whom have been integral to our campaign work, and project, such as with the #AllOnBoard campaign, and work around #BCLobbyDays, Raising the Rates, and more! This group also had two in-person gatherings to get to know the new provincial director, reconnect after a hiatus, and do some brainstorming around priorities for the upcoming year. The CAN has identified the following three priorities to shape their upcoming work:

1. Raising the Rates and removing barriers for disability and social assistance.
2. Food Justice and Security efforts.
3. Mitigating and preventing the impacts of climate change, including extreme weather events on low income and marginalized communities.

We look forward to working alongside this powerful network of leaders and powerhouse advocates!
